WHAT IS YTU SOCIETY OF CONSTRUCTION?

The YTU Society of Construction is a highly active and esteemed student-led organization that has been in operation since its establishment in 2002. Its mission is to cultivate well-rounded individuals in various aspects of life.

Over the past two decades, the society has worked on several exemplary projects aimed at developing students' socio-cultural and professional skills. The "İlk Baretim," "Civillstanbul," "Recode," and "MDC" (Miniature Design Competition) projects showcase our society's excellence in the academic and construction industries. They have contributed significantly to our reputation.

The YTU Society of Construction, also known as the LC Yıldız local committee at Yıldız Technical University, is honored to be aligned with the respected International Association of Civil Engineering Students (IACES).

WHAT ARE THE WORKING FIELDS OF THE SOCIETY?

In addition to the events, the society has eight supporting departments, including "communication and education", "sponsorship", "press", "graphic design", "technical visit", "art and culture", "social responsibility" and "competition".

These departments, which are robust and professional, help the society achieve its mission of empowering students, promoting their growth in academic and social spheres and making a lasting impact within the construction industry.

CIVILISTANBUL

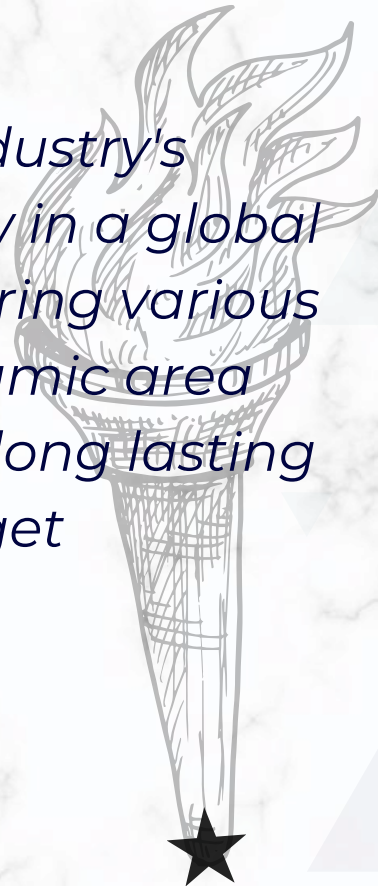

Civilistanbul started as "RIJIT" in 2012, and has been known as "Civil Istanbul Architecture and Engineering Conferences" since 2014. It is now the leading event within the construction industry for the YTU Society of Construction.

Through a variety of interesting conferences, panel discussions, workshops and other engaging activities, our aim is to bring together leading companies and thought-provoking speakers from both national and international spheres to address current issues and explore future perspectives. Our goal is to reunite speakers with our participants this year. By doing this, we make sure that Civilistanbul remains an important gathering place for those passionate about the industry, providing them with information on the newest advancements and future trends.

OUR MISSION

Approaching the industry's today and tomorrow in a global dimension by gathering various disciplines at a dynamic area and bringing in the long lasting headings to the target participant

OUR VISION

To raise the participant awareness and increase both the personal and professional consciousness in the proffered international and multidisciplinary atmosphere

CIVILISTANBUL'25

Civillstanbul'25, which will be held in the last week of February, will last for four days and will include conferences, panels and Meet and Greet's on the first two days where we can spend time with the companies in our foyer area, which are the representatives of the sector, and a special disaster section on the second day where we can discuss all situations of disaster as well as conferences. On the third day, CIVILFEST, which will be held for the second time this year, and CIVILCASE, which will be held for the first time in the history of Civillstanbul, will take place.

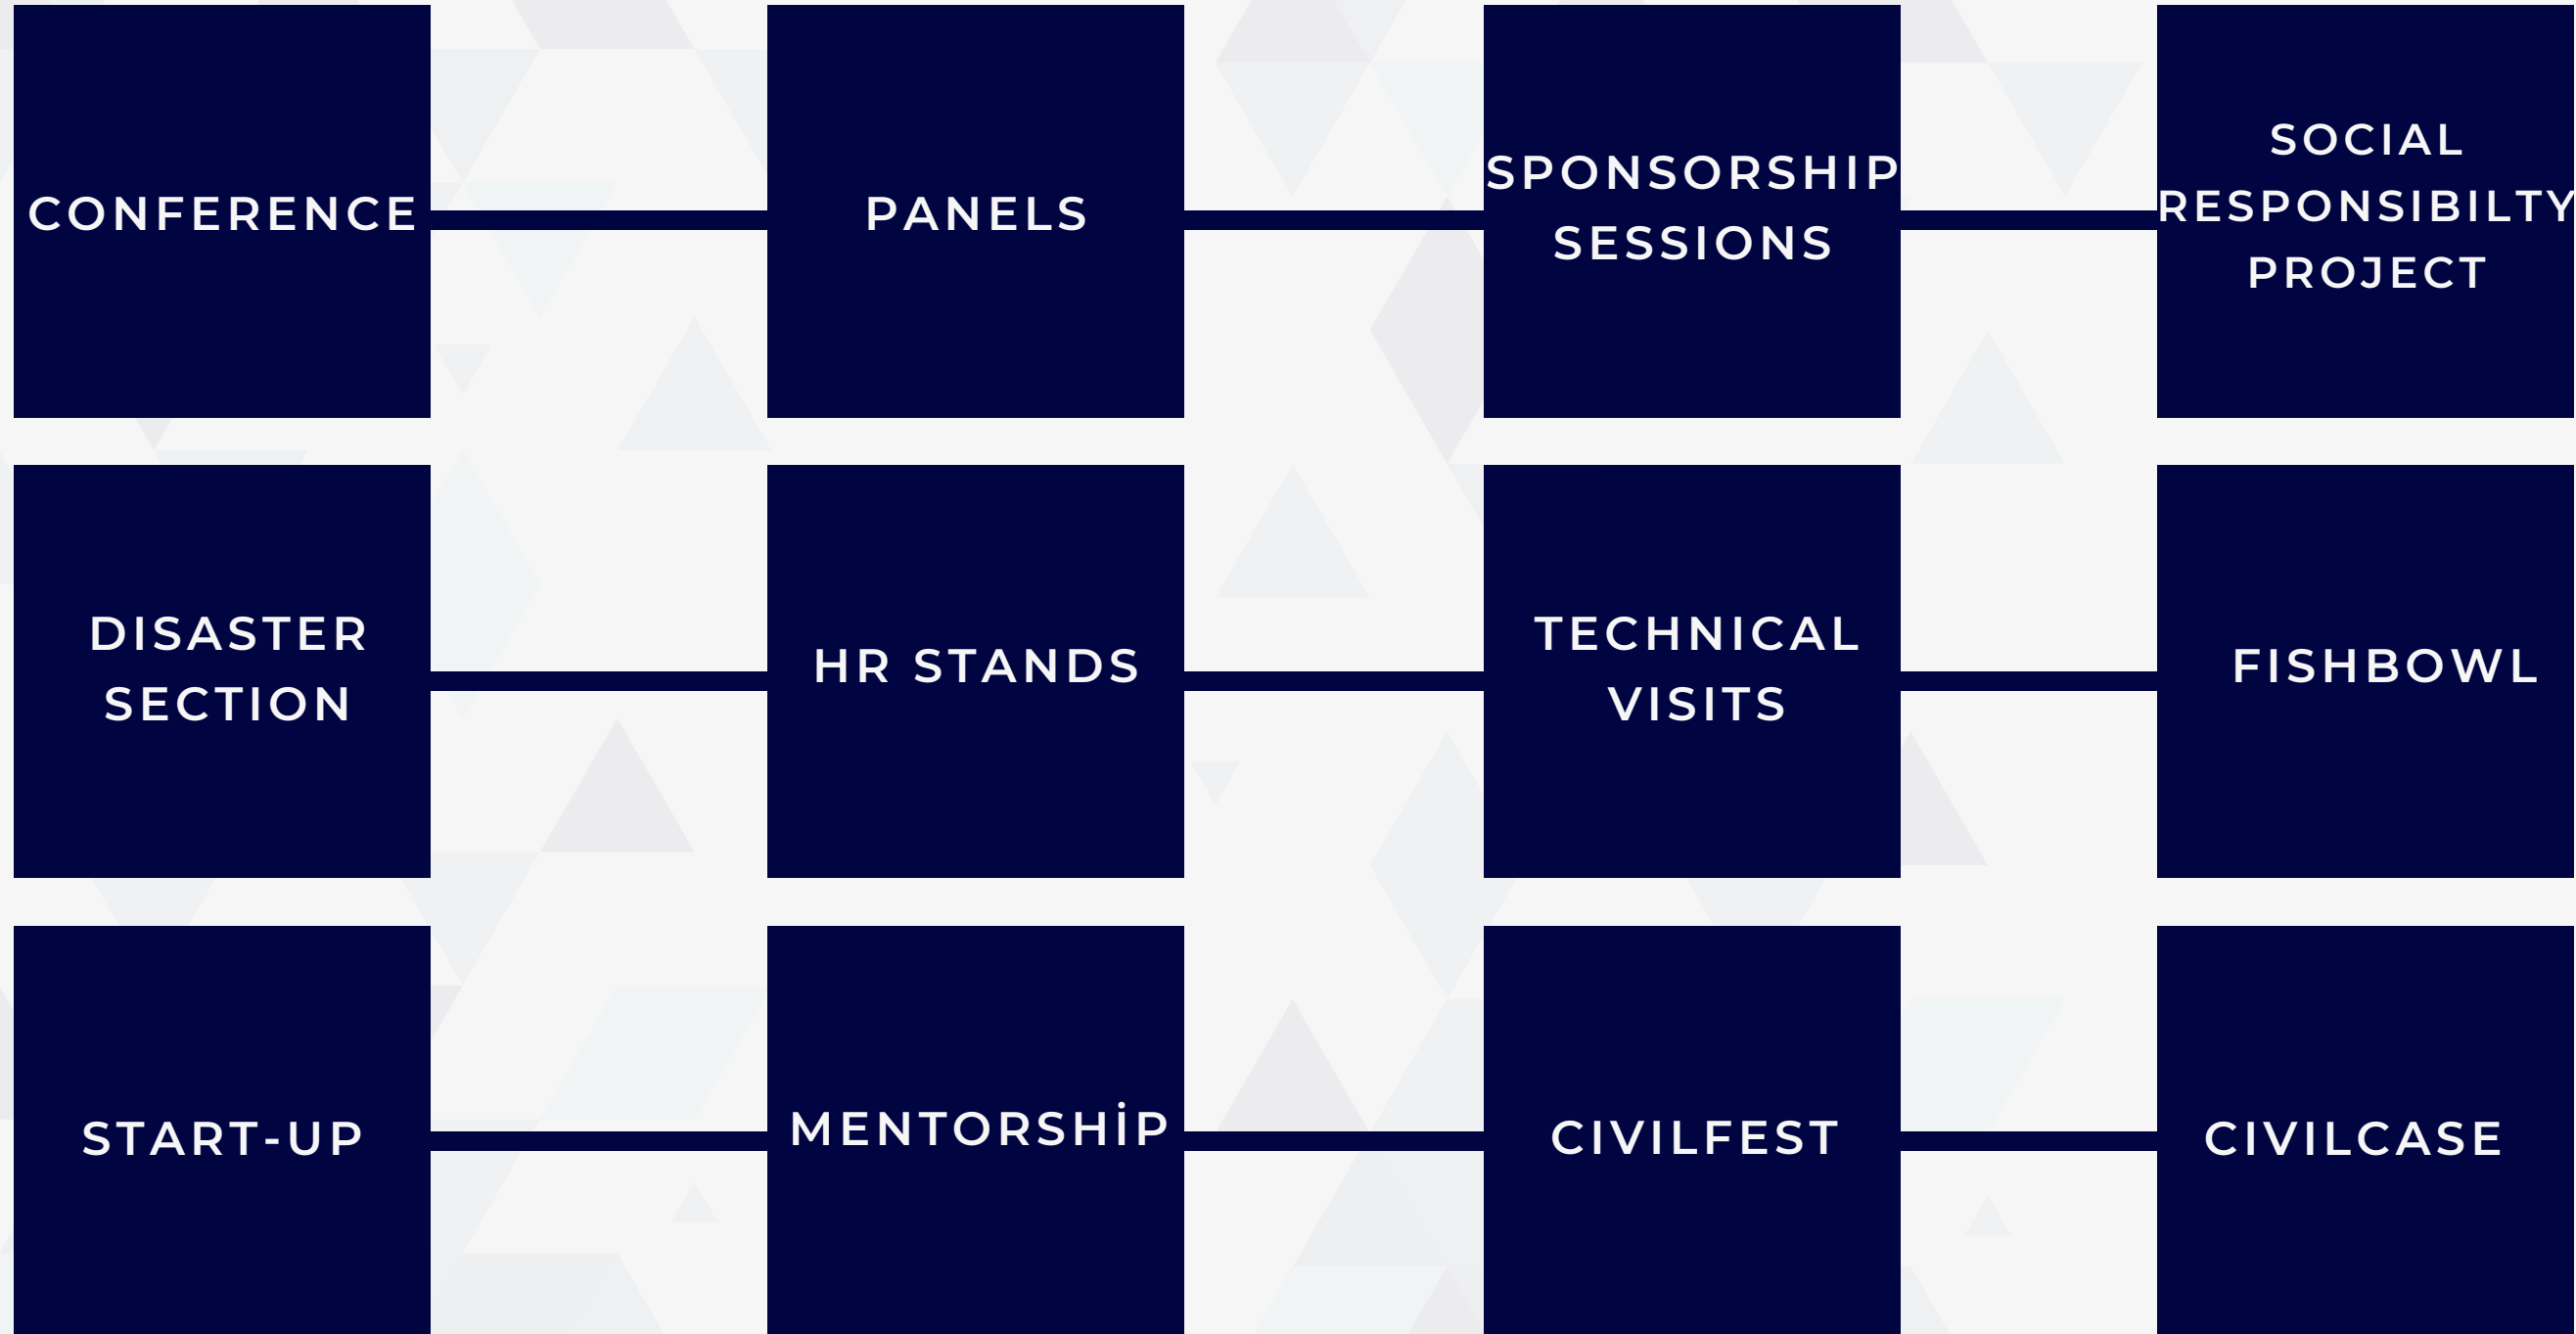

On the last day of the event, technical visits will be organised to architectural offices, construction sites, etc. where new applications are realised, which will reinforce the knowledge gained during the conference and are in line with the topics of the event.

OpenGala, which will take place the day before the start of the event, and traditional night, cultural tours and various social activities to be held during the event will provide an environment of fun and mingling with the participants.
